

“We Still Raise Our Hands”

[Verse 1]

They came in the dark, no warning call,
Boots on the ground and guns in the hall.
A mother screams, a child hides his face,
Freedom disappears without a trace.

ICE in the street, Marines at the door,
Like we're enemies in our own war.
No papers, no crime, no reason, no right —
They still took our neighbors into the night.

---

[Chorus]

But we still raise our hands, we still hold the line,
Through fear and the silence, we won't resign.
You can tear down our homes, try to bury the truth,
But the people will rise — we are living proof.
You can raid every town, take what you can...
But you'll never break the soul of this land.

[Verse 2]

They say “law and order,” but it's fear they bring,
Militarized thunder behind every ring.
Protestors are dragged for daring to speak,
Their boots on our backs, their hands on our cheek.

Even citizens lost in the sweep and the hate,
No trial, no call — just a cell and a gate.
And the flag that we love waves over the pain,
While liberty cries in the pouring rain.

[Chorus]

But we still raise our hands, we still hold the line,
Through shadows and sirens, our hearts still shine.
You can chain every voice, try to darken the skies,
But the fire burns bright in defiant eyes.

You can raid every town, take what you can...
But you'll never break the soul of this land.

[Bridge]

From El Paso to Queens, the stories are real,
A father deported, a girl forced to kneel.
But truth has a pulse, and hope has a name —
We carry it forward through struggle and flame.

[Final Chorus]

We still raise our hands, we still stand as one,
With every dawn, we chase back the gun.
They can send all their troops, try to silence our song,
But this is our country — and we still belong.
You can raid every town, tear down the plan...
But you'll never break the soul of this land.
